Photographs from Keep Posted television programs, 1951-1953
Scope and Contents
Photographs of guests, panelists, and host/moderator Lawrence Spivak and moderators Martha Rountree and Ned Brooks, and the television audience on the set of the public affairs television series Keep Posted . Guests on the program debated opposing sides of an issue with questions from the panel of journalists and sometimes the audience. The set featured a large graphic depicting the cover of Saturday Evening Post . Guests included mostly national leaders, members of Congress, and government officials such as Richard Nixon, W. Averell Harriman, Clare Boothe Luce, and John F. Kennedy. Topics of the program included presidential elections, Communism, the Cold War, national defense, and foreign policy.

Photographs from the television program entitled The Big Issue and several special television programs, 1953-1971

Scope and Contents

Photographs of guests; producer/moderator Lawrence Spivak; moderators Ned Brooks, Ruth Jackson, and Martha Rountree; and the television audience on the set of the public affairs television program entitled The Big Issue in 1953. Guests included mostly national leaders, members of Congress, government officials, and ambassadors. The program featured a debate between guests on the opposing sides of an issue and included questions from a panel of journalists and sometimes the audience. Topics of "Big issue" included the Korean War, economic policy, civil rights, juvenile delinquency, and civil defense. Also includes photographs of special programs moderated by Lawrence Spivak: "Election '56," "Is revolution in the U.S.S.R. possible or impossible," a program for Northwestern University alumni, and a show on the Pentagon Papers. A few images depict backstage or production scenes. Includes printed programs for some shows.
